Who Is Spencer Mix?

"Who is Spencer Mix?" is the title of the showcase display seen outside RM. 110. This display was put up to publicize M.N.'s newest organization, the save the Children Foundation. The club, still in embryonic stages, is supporting Spencer Mix, a 14 yr. old member of the Pima tribe in Sacaton, Arizona, through the save the Children Foundation. The club raises $15 a month through bake sales and other fund raising activities and gives the money to save the children to help take care of Spencer.

Spencer lives on a reservation near Sacaton and is in 8th grade at the Sacaton Public school. He has 4 brothers and one sister, whose ages range from 4-21, which makes a total of 8 people living in his home, including his parents. His hobbies are baseball and horseback riding. His house has no running water. The club at present has 6-8 members, and while others do not seem to be formalized, David Roseo is handling most of the details of running the club and raising the funds. Mrs. Charrington is the advisor. According to David, the club's main objective now is to keep afloat and solvent enough to provide the $15 a month. After the organization establishes a stable footing, however, David wants to expand the club a little, perhaps to learn more about Spencer and his tribe, and if possible to start sponsoring another child through the Foundation.

David himself worked this summer doing proofreading and odd jobs for the Mohawk Nation newspaper, Akwasane Notes. The library has a subscription to Akwasane Notes, and the current copy is always available. Anyone interested in the club may contact either Mrs. Charrington or David for details.

Spring Tour To Visit Italy

This year's Spring Vacation Tour is planned for Italy. Sponsored by the Classical and Modern Language League, this is the sixth annual tour and will run March 23-April 1, 1973. A jet will depart from Philadelphia and arrive in Pisa for a city tour. The tour group will then continue to Florence for sightseeing, places of interest including Palazzo Vecchio and the Uffizi Art Museum. Next they will visit Sorrento and the Amalfi Drive and then go to Rome for an extensive visit to the excavated city of Pompei. Sightseeing in Rome will also include excursions to Ostia, Capitoline Hill, the Roman Forum, Palatine Hill and Piazza Del Popolo. A dance and pizza party are planned for the final evening in Italy. The tour will return to Philadelphia the following day.

Everyone is eligible for the trip if one joins the C.M.L.L. Tour Group for two dollars. The price of the trip includes airfare, transportation in Europe, hotels, and entrance fees, tips, taxes, breakfast and dinner everyday, and some lunches. Information's now available in the language center.

MNSC Meeting Held

M.N. Student Council met for the first time on Wednesday, Sept. 27, to discuss new business for the coming year.

Directing the meeting were Mrs. Egner and Frank Ostroff, the President of Student Council. Other Executive Officers include: Jay Howley, Executive Vice President Sharon Lawrence Treasurer; Margie Ackerman Corresponding Secretary Kathy Karabestos, Recording Secretary; Kathy Karabestos Recording Secretary, John Dutton, Business Vice President; and Joy Van Wyck Parliamentarian.

"The basic aim this year," claims Frank, "is to make our council more responsive to students' needs and demands."

Plans are being made to hold student polls and forums. Council members will meet with the student body once every other week after school, to get reactions and ideas from all who attend.

Representative reporting procedures are being reviewed and improved. Reports must be given in Social Studies classes by the elected class representative.

Sharon Lawrence and Joy Van Wyck were elected to represent Marple Newtown in Harrisburg, as delegates for a conference concerning educational government.

Ideas for the Charity Drive were also discussed. It will probably be held the week of October 21, but no definite plans have been made.

Donations Are Needed

The International Exchange Club is collecting donations to sponsor a foreign exchange student. Please give what you can. Thank you.

Dr. Sauers Attends Conference

On September 26, 1972, Dr. Ssuers, Marple Newtown's principal, attended a meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Secondary School Principals. It was held at the Marriot Motor Inn on City Line. The principals from all high schools in Pennsylvania were there. Accompanying Dr. Sauers were Mrs. Terese Levin and Mr. Harvey Roth, teachers at Marple Newtown. Kevin Kuhn and Mike Francis, who are N.M. students, went also. Dr. Sauers was the chairman of the program at the convention. He led the discussion of that day entitled "The Modern Problem-Vandalism." The purpose was to alert the principals of the crucial problem by citing examples of Vandalism at Marple Newtown. In his speech Dr. Sauers used Nancy Gussow's editorial which was in the September 22nd edition of MAR NEWS. Her article stressed that students should voice their opinions instead of taking destructive actions against the school. Evidently, he was impressed with Nancy's article. Dr. Sauers hopes that by discussing the problem of vandalism, he can alleviate further mishaps.

Dino's Begins

Once again, M.N.'s literary magazine, Dino's, is preparing for their December issue. Any student with talents in creative writing, poetry, or art are welcome to submit their work to Dino's. Remember, too, that Dino's delectable donuts, coffee and tea are on sale daily from 7:30 A.M. until homeroom in the cafeteria.

Exchange Club Plans Year

At the first meeting of the International Exchange Club on Wednesday, September 28, two exchange students living in Marple Newtown spoke. They talked about the different customs of their lands and stressed how nice everyone over here has been. Terry Vega, from the Philippines, told of the thousands of dialects spoken there, while Mari-tale Mazon, from Brazil said that parties in her country last for five days.

Once a week there will be a pretzel sale to raise money for the International Weekend. This is a weekend where exchange students from many different schools come to Marple Newtown. They go through a regular school day here and attend many planned social events.

Applications for those interested in being exchange students are now being distributed. All applicants must be sixteen or over.

must be made up at some other time. The delayed opening left thousands of kids in the streets, seeking ways to fill the boring hours. It demanded that impatient kindergarteners, eager to start school, and impatient seniors, eager to finish school, be patient.

The freedom to strike is an important part of our labor system. It protects the rights of the employees. Usually, a strike affects only the employer and employee. However, in the case of a teachers' strike, innocent children are also affected. Is it fair to include students in the "fight" between teacher and school board?

Teacher "walk-outs" are a major problem in the U.S. today. Something must be done to combat this problem. Education is of too great an importance to waste any time.

Band-A-Rama Held

On September 30, 1972, Marple Newtown Band Association held its third annual Band-a-Rama. Our band hosted seven other bands from the surrounding area including, in the class B band category: St. James, Wissahickon, Salisbury, William Tennant, and Methacton, and two class A bands: The Deptford Spartan Band and Archbishop Wood. In class B, Salisbury won first place in all categories. Archbishop Wood took first in everything in class A. This was Archbishop Wood's third consecutive win; according to the rules of Band-a-Rama, they keep the trophy permanently.

Math Club Begins

The mathematical minds in our school, under the direction of Miss Lewis, are preparing for a year of competition. Algebra, geometry, and trigonometry are the basic math involved. The members of the team are Joanne Fricker, George Jakubson, Becky Murr, Tom Hegstead, Jim Chung, Robert Kaplan, and Lee Serka. However, only three members compete at each meet. The first competition is against Interboro on October 11 at home in room 218. Everyone is welcome to attend.

tract had not been arrived at before the opening of school, the teachers voted to strike.

I'm sure that many of us would gladly have switched places with a Philadelphia student during the past three weeks. I'm just as certain that the majority of students there would gladly have switched places with us. One of the things that makes summer vacation so special is its brevity. When it is stretched out, it tends to lose its appeal. Come September, most students are ready for a change in pace, ready to return to school. In June, they're anxious to leave. Would you be as willing to switch places if it meant attending school during the summer to make up for lost time?

Philadelphia school students missed three weeks of school, three weeks that hoping for the moment when the bus would either crash, killing them all, or finally reach its destination. One girl, standing by the door, screamed out, "I'm going to complain!" And before she realized her mistake, the sadist driver had opened the door and veered sharply to the left, causing the young student to be hurled on a nearby lawn. Before getting up, he looked skyward and thanked God that she had been spared from the completion of the ride. She felt sorry for her schoolmates as she saw the yellow streak disappear over a nearby hill.

Back on the bus, the driver looked into his rear-view mirror and smiled as he saw the students huddling together in absolute horror. They sighed as the bus screeched to a halt, hurling student over student. "Get out!" the driver screamed and the passengers fell over each other trying to get out of the TORTURE VEHICLE. As they entered the school, they could hear behind them, "AND DON'T FORGET, HAVE A NICE DAY!"

the driver shouted. He kicked the remaining children into the bus. He laughed loudly and closed the door slowly, crushing one of the passengers. From under the dashboard, he drew a jeweled whip and standing on the seat, he lashed it at the cowering students. "Back," he screamed, "back," and screams of pain arose from all parts of the school bus. "Five in a seat," he cackled as he started the engines and screeched from the bus stop. "You'll never forget THIS ride," he shouted as he turned the heating control to full. It wasn't long until the windows of the death trap began to steam and cloud. "Take one long look for the day! You won't return to it until long after school's over," he screeched. And with that, his foot pressed the accelerator as far as it would go. The bus sped through the back roads, nearly tumbling over on each turn and crashing through every stop sign. The students, crushed and lying on the dirty floor, covered in terror,

Students Make

We Need Your Legs

Three students in our school are in the process of producing an independent film. Scott Searfoss, Jeff Shandler producing "The Last Cistersi" to film. It is a satire on an evil old-fashioned no ya family that gets mixed up in the Salvation Army. The cast of hundreds, which include such actors and actresses as Scott, Jeff, Joe, Martha Sosangelis, Debbie Boonin, Edna Robbins, Sheila Pearlman, Beth Levinson, Bev Shacter, Sue Cash, Leslie Cedarquist, Joe Maher and many other students and an occasional faculty member making cameo appearances: is filming on various locations such as local houses, shopping centers, and parks, cemetery, a library and just plain open roads. Also aiding in the production of "The Last Cistersi" is Dave Robbins with some inspiring advice from two recent alumni, Harry Hall and Bobbi Cohen. (some of us may recall Harry's film "The Organ Grinder from the previous year.) "The Last Cistersi" should be ready for the public sometime this winter.

This year, as in the past, the sport of cross-country running proved to be too great a challenge for the athletes of M-N. Evidently, the going is too rough for a person with a normal complement of ability. So in our school, we came very close to having no team at all in cross country. Although this is not a glamorous sport, like football or basketball, cross-country involves a great deal of guys to make it. I guess most of the boys in our school don't have the guts.

Mr. Pitt, a member of the Physics Department, stresses his need for support in these words, "As a coach I'm extremely bitter toward the boys in this school who are physically able to run, yet they are too lazy to join the team. There are many in this school whom I feel would be satisfied if we had 20 boys suited up and running."

This year's team numbers 13.

There is a bright spot, however, in this basically grey picture. Nine out of the 13 runners are sophomores, with a great deal of potential. This means next year cross country will have 9 returning veterans, experienced runners. Mr. Pitt also stressed the need for experience in this grueling sport. Practice plays only a small part in gaining the confidence necessary to become a good long distance runner.

The season opened with a disappointing loss to Nether Providence. N.P. captured the first five places, but two M.N. runners finished sixth and seventh. The season will consist of seven meets, including triangular and dual meets. The runners and coaches are looking forward to a successful and educational experience.

Girls Track To Begin

This years girls' track team is under the direction of Miss Smith. The girls will start practicing in the fall. The girls plan is to work hard and to obtain a winning record.

Sophs Wake To Driver's Ed

This year, approximately one third of the sophomore class did not get scheduled for Driver's Education in the classroom. The class of '75 is the largest one that M.N. has ever seen and there was a lack of available classroom space. Principal Dr. Sauers, decided that the only way to solve this problem was to hold a class before school from 7:45 to 8:45, beginning on Oct. 2, and running for six weeks. This will make it possible for all students who want Driver's Ed to take it.

Dear Editors:

There has recently been a big controversy concerning the Senior Prom being held at the Alpine Inn. How many Seniors were asked about where they wanted their prom to be held? It seems this location was picked by a select panel who had no intention of giving the students their choice in the matter. Is this a democratic government or a dictatorship? The selection of the Alpine Inn was slapped on the table and if left us with a feeling of "Like it or lump it."

There have been many rumors going around and many questions have been asked. Is the Alpine Inn the choice because it is cheap or because it is the best place around? We only have one Senior Prom in our lives. Is it worth being cheap and having lousy memories? Our prom is advertised as "the night not soon to be forgotten." Is this bad or good? Some people dream about their Senior Prom. We have nightmares. Is free coke "in a glass" potato chips and pretzels enough to look forward to for our prom? A rumor is going around about the entertainment for the prom. Do you want to get dressed up in a tuxedo just to see Charlie Chaplin films or would you rather come in dungarees to see a midget do a strip-tesse act? Would you like to go to your prom in a tuxedo or go, as it is commonly known in the athletic field in socks and jocks. It is a known fact that the Alpine Inn is a "shake up joint." Why weren't any other rooms looked into earlier such as The Marriot Holiday Inn, and Park City West? Places are usually picked by their reputations. What kind of reputation does the Alpine Inn have?

It is extremely necessary to discuss the matter of our prom. We may be able to get our deposit back. If we can, then maybe we will be able to vote for another place. If not, then maybe this will be a lesson to the juniors and sophmores.

Concerned Seniors

Sr Prom Stirs Controversy

Well gang, we still are having a Senior Prom. It was reported in the last issue that the Prom was to be held at the Alpine Inn. Then the troubles all began. It seems that some of the student body disagreed with the choice made. So they set up a petition and went to the class officers to voice their opposition to the Alpine Inn. They wanted it to be held at another location. Names like Hilton, Treadway Inn or Holiday Inn were some of their suggestions for another place. The Alpine inn was chosen through a vote of the class. The reasons were to help the Student body enjoy themselves. The following are the important reasons given: The rent was cheaper thereby leaving more money to be spent on other phases of the Prom.

Much money would be spent on music and entertainment; there would be free coke, pretzel, and potato chip bar opened all night; coffee and danish would be served at 3:00 A.M. for breakfast.

Because of the petition a meeting was held at 3:15 P.M. in room 113 on Tuesday, Sept. 26.

The students opposed to the Alpine Inn were given the reasons for it being chosen, which many had not known. Now all again is calm and the students are satisfied. All are looking forward to the Senior Prom.

Editor's Note; is everyone really satisfied? Read the letter to the Editor.

Debaters Get Under Way

The Marple Newtown Debating Team, directed by Boettjer, is entering the process of research. They are learning various techniques in the science of debating such as details of the procedures for argumentation, researching, making evidence, practical logic and analysis, and building articulation. One topic is professionally selected on a national basis and the entire year is spent in discussing it. Students choose their sides, affirmative or negative, and practice debating among themselves.

The team meets monthly to debate with twelve high schools, our affirmative team versus their negative; our negative team versus their affirmative. The probable topic for this year will concern federal government financing of primary and secondary education. Anyone interested should attend the regular meetings held Thursdays in room 103.

Students Offer Knowledge

The Tutorial Club wants the student body to be aware of its existence. Mrs. Levin, the club sponsor, feels that not enough students who could tutor or be tutored realize the opportunity that they have. Anyone with a strong "B" average or better in any subject is eligible to tutor that subject. Anyone with less than a "C" average in a subject is recommended to ask for a tutor.

The prospective tutor or tutee can pick up a form at the Math Resource Center and return it to Mrs. Levin. The student will be notified in his homeroom as to his tutorial assignment. Tutors on any subject are available at anytime before, after, or during school.

Each tutor is matched with one student. Students, therefore, may ask any question without embarrassment. Students with physical handicaps such as hearing and sight are welcomed into the program.

The basic goal of the tutorial program is to strengthen students in certain skills and improve their scholastic background.

The officers of the tutorial club are Marie Mazzaio, President; Karen Lipton, Treasurer; and Legia Lapps, secretary. All of the members of the Tutorial Club hope for active participation throughout the year.

Library Gets Help

In this year's library club, there are close to fifteen student members. They devote time before school, during study periods, or after school. They assist the librarians, Mrs. Zirkle and Mr. Franz, by signing out materials, shelving books and periodicals, and classifying cards, slips, and literature.

Library aides also assist students. Students are encouraged to make use of the reference room, periodical room, books and pamphlets, records and microfilm, which are among the library's many facilities. The library will remain open daily from 7:30 A.M. until 5:00 P.M. for all students.

Rock & Pop To Be Held

Student Council has scheduled Rock and Pop for Saturday, November 18, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium. Tickets will be $1.50 each for reserved seats. Singles and groups that would like to be part of this festival should contact John Dutton.

MIN Is Proven Unpredictable

Have you ever wondered why people ridicule this school? Have you often wondered how they can do this when we are learning in one of the best schools in the country? Why, some of those "radicals" even suggest great changes be made. What audacity? Those people have minds, very uneducated. Who else but idiots would suggest that vandalism be curbed, when we do not even have a vandalism problem? What fools.

I mean, only badly run schools have those problems. They look at those other schools? They have forty-five minutes for lunch! How ridiculous to have that long a lunch. We in Marple Newtown are very generously given a twenty-two minute lunch period. Plenty of time to eat without getting rushed, isn't it?

Also those other less fortunate schools are forced to hire any teacher. We at Marple Newtown don't have those problems, do we? I remember when I was at another school that the teacher couldn't even figure out the directions for a test that was to be given in homeroom. Unbelievable? No teacher in our school has trouble with homeroom testing, do they?

Some things they do in those other schools are really unbelievable. In one school the administration actually gives the students freedom. We in Marple Newtown aren't bothered with ridiculous things like freedom, are we? I don't think so.

Why just the other day I was sitting in the back lobby when I was supposed to be in lunch. The reason I was in the back lobby is that I just didn't feel like going to lunch. I mean it's a beautiful lunchroom and the facilities are just sparkling clean, but still with all its appeal I didn't wish to go to lunch.

Anyway I was just sitting there waiting for the period to end when along comes an administrator. He approached me and we had a stimulating conversation. It went like this;

"What's you doin' son?"

"Huh?"

"Where you supposed to be son?"

"Ahh....in lunch?"

"Well why aren't you there?"

"What?"

"Something wrong with you boy?"

"Huh?"

"What's your name son?"

"Mike Spear."

"Smith huh?"

"No Spear, as in checker."

"Huh?"

"Spear, S-P-E-A-R."

"Oh, Spear huh?"

"Yeh Spear."

"How comes your not in lunch?"

"I don't feel like it."

"You sick, boy?"

"Ahh.....yeh okay I'm sick."

"Come with me son."

"The name is....."

...."Come on."

"Yeh okay."

We arrived at the lunchroom, where I waited patiently. Then the conversation continued.

"You want to go down to the nurse kid?"

"Yeh okay."

I filled out the pass just as I was supposed to.

I gave it back to him and he sighed it.

"Okay here you go son."

"Thanks."

I went down to the nurses office. When I arrived she was busy and one of her aides came over to help me. Another interesting conversation.

"What's your name?"

"Son, I mean Mike, yeh thats it, Mike Spear."

"Whaddayou want?"

"I'm sick.....I think?"

"What?"

"Well you see I was up in the back, lobby and was asked why I'm not in lunch. I say that I don't feel like it. He says I'm sick. I never argue with a teacher. Besides I.....

....."Wait a minute I think you should talk to the nurse."

"Yeh okay. Mrs..."

"Yes, what do you want?"

Completely disillusioned and confused I try to reply.

"I'm sick, I think, I mean, Oh gees. Just sign this pass so I can get out of here."

"Okay, here you go."

JOCKTALK

Players Are Recognized

Each week, following the M.N. football game, two players are chosen for their individual efforts and achievements in the game and they are designated as lineman and back of the week. Anyone passing through the high school main lobby can look in the showcase and see the pictures of those individuals who were considered to be the outstanding players of the game. In addition to having pictures in the showcase, local newspapers also honor these players by printing a photograph and saying a few words about their play.

The M.N. Soccer Team follows a similar procedure, although there are usually two games a week, which allows more individuals to vie for the honor of being named lineman and back of the week. These players also get their picture put in the local paper. In addition, they get to wear practice socks of a different color for a week to distinguish them from the rest of the team.

The process of naming individuals in these sports as players of the week is profitable in several ways. It can serve as incentive for those participating. Not only does it bring honor and respect to the individual, but it helps in the publicity of the entire sport as well. On the other hand, one should not think for a moment that, just because a person was named player of the week, the game was a one or two man effort. Football and soccer, especially are team sports and require the combined all-out effort of all those involved. Of course there will be individuals who present unusually strong or outstanding performances, hence they receive the honors. However, their performance is only relative to the performance of all the other players, and in many cases the honored ones could not have done as well as they did had it not been for the assistance of all the others. Honor the individual, but remember the team!

MN Tigers Hassle Haverford

The Marple-Newtown Varsity Football Team took its first step toward defending its Central League Championship by defeating Haverford High School, 14-0. It was a special victory for MN for two reasons. First of all, it was the first time in ten years that Marple-Newtown has been able to defeat the Fords. Secondly, the game was one of revenge since Haverford handed MN their only league setback in last year's opener.

Ken Bradford was the star for Marple-Newtown as he scored two touchdowns of 15 and 55 yards while piling up 170 yards in 21 carries. Quarterback Burke Maze ran the option expertly and Quarterback Pete Bartlett showed his strong accurate arm. The defense was excellent as they shut out the Fords. Co-Captain Joe Turner, Jeff Weinstein, and Steve Vogelsong put the pressure on Haverford's Quarterback the whole game and therefore prevented a score. The pint-sized defensive backfield shined as Dave Seagraves and Bob Florio made key interceptions. With the Tigers' first win, they move into a four way tie for first place along with Conestoga, Lower Merion, and Springfield (Delco).

On Friday, September 29, the Tigers faced Lower Merion on their field. The field was wet and the weather miserable, but Marple came up with their second straight shutout to beat Lower Merion 19-0. Again it was Ken Bradford for Marple. Bradford carried the ball 19 times for 141 yards and scored our first touchdown on a 12 yard run. He set up this score with a 31 yard punt return. Fullback Joe Basile muscled his way to 121 yards in 23 carries. He also scored a five yard touchdown. With this 1-2 punch, M.N.'s running attack was unstoppable. M.N.'s blocking was superb as the backs rolled up 302 yards on this slippery turf. Lower Merion's defense was tough as they held Marple twice inside the five yard line. Sophomore quarterback Pete Bartlett came off the bench and rifled a pass to Chris Chase for a five yard touchdown. This accounted for the other M.N. score. Coach Kenig's defense put on another fine show. The front four of Turner, Weinstein, Vogelsong, and Kofalt stopped everything coming at them. Ken Bradford led the backfield with an interception and Bob Florio showed his hard hitting ability.

With this win, the Tigers moved into a first place tie with Conestoga. Tonight the Tigers face Conestoga at Conestoga under the lights for first place. The game starts at 8 P.M. Come and support our winning team.

JV Puts Up Hard Fight

The J.V. Football team has been working to defend MN's achievements in football. The team is coached by Henry Buoni. Assistant coach is Mr. Green, and Managers are Joe Noce and Bob Battista.

The team's record, unfortunately, does not live up to the high hopes. On Sept. 18 the JV lost its opening game to Methacton 36-0. However, the team's second game, against Haverford on Sept. 25, was closer; MN maintained an 8-6 lead into the final quarter, but Haverford came back to win the game, 18-8.

The disappointment may be due to several crucial injuries. Glenn Theil, Jim Gardner and Steve Sarian are out for all or part of the season. Despite such problems, the J.V.'s spirit is up for the game against Conestoga on October 9th.

The members of the JV team this year are S. MacDonald, J. Gardner, S. Taylor, J. Garchinsky, M. Beaulieu, S. Stoner, J. Carroll, Soccer for the week of Sept. 18:

Back of the week-----Jon Winterling.

Booters Boost Record

The M.N. Varsity Booters, on Sept. 19, put on an impressive offensive display as they slaughtered Chester 8 to 0. Ben Eskenazi and Bryn Williams led the attack with 3 goals each, and substitutes Rick Joseph and Glenn McNeal each tallied once. The J.V. also defeated Chester, by a 2 to 1 score, as George Dallas and Scott Bradburd scored for the Tigers to up their undefeated record.

Keith Bradburd's goal in period 1 of overtime gave the Varsity Tigers a 2 to 1 victory over the Conestoga Pioneers on Sept. 22. The other M.N. goalgetter was Ben Eskenazi. The J.V. battled to a 1 to 1 tie in a hard fought game at Conestoga.

On Sept. 26, the Varsity earned their fourth consecutive win of the season as they shut out Sun Valley 3 to 0. A big surprise came when fullback David Peirce scored a goal for M.N. Ben Eskenazi scored the other two goals of the afternoon. The J.V. pushed their record to 4-0-1 as they turned back Sun Valley by a 2 to 1 score on goals by Scott Margolis and George Dallas.
